

Vehicle Manufacturing Regulation - Speed Limit Compliance

All manufactured vehicles must be equipped with factory-installed speed limiters that restrict maximum velocity to 120 kilometers per hour.

Engine control units must be programmed to prevent tampering or override of speed limitation systems. Manufacturers must certify compliance through independent testing before vehicle registration approval. Non-compliance results in manufacturing license revocation.